

HOLY COLLECTION

Nina Ventura has spent much of her life collecting beautiful holy cards depicting saints in intricate art work. She became interested in them while living in Italy and also built up the collection during summer holidays to France, Germany and Spain. Her passion for the unique cards was the inspiration behind her Vintage Mannequins and Sacred Art exhibition at Carclew House, from March 18 to 20. The exhibition combines Nina's love for the cards, mannequins, picture frames and lace – all presented in an avante-garde fashion. Giving up her job as a marketing assistant to follow her dream, Nina spent many nights trying to work out how her love of all things vintage could be combined and came up with the impressive idea of transferring some of her most treasured images onto mannequins.
